

The Washington Post

Town Square | New townhomes set for Rosslyn

BY MICHELE LERNER May 19 at 5:30 am

The 25 four-story townhouses at Rosslyn Commons will be built on a landscaped plaza bordered by North Oak Street and 16th Road North, near both the Rosslyn and Court House Metro stations, Interstate 66, Key Bridge and the Mount Vernon Trail and a bike and pedestrian path.

Madison Homes and Resmark Land and Housing, a division of the Resmark Companies, have formed a joint venture to develop the townhouses, which are expected to be priced between $1.2 million and $1.3 million.

Each home will have 2,300 to 2,599 square feet, a two-car garage and a deck off the main level. Most will also have a rooftop terrace and an elevator. Standard features include oak stairs, Silestone countertops, ceramic flooring and hardwood flooring.

Presales are anticipated to begin in September.